Upon receipt of the grievance, that person shall make arrangements with the Union for a meeting between the parties to be held within fifteen (15) working days of receipt of the grievance. The requirement for such a meeting may be waived by mutual agreement of the parties. If the employee receives no reply or does not receive satisfactory settlement within ten (10) working days from the date on which the meeting took place or if fifteen (15) working days expire prior to the meeting being held, the employee may proceed to Step Two.

STEP TWO:

working days of the date on which a reply should have been received from the person designated as the second level.

15.04 In any case where the employee presents his grievance in person or in any case in which a hearing is held on a grievance at any level of the grievance process the employee may be accompanied by a representative or agent of the Union.

15.05 In determining the time in which any step under the foregoing proceedings is to be taken, Saturdays, Sundays, and recognized holidays shall be excluded. If requested at such time an employee will be provided with a photocopy of such documents.

17.10 A record of disciplinary action shall be removed from the official file of an employee upon the expiration of a period of eighteen (18) months following the effective date of the disciplinary action, provided no other instance of disciplinary action in respect of the employee has been recorded during this eighteen (18) month period.

Re: Terms and Conditions of Employment for Casuals Employed for a period of less than Six (6) continuous months (Casual employees)

In accordance with section 63.1(2) of the Public Service Labour Relations Act, a collective agreement shall not provide, directly or indirectly, for the alteration or elimination of an existing term or condition of employment or the establishment of a new term or condition of employment if the alteration, elimination or establishment, as the case may be, has the effect of giving a casual employee permanent employee status.

The Collective Agreement shall apply to casual employees employed for a period of less than six (6) continuous months except as specifically provided in Parts A and B of this Appendix. Should the employment of a casual employee extend beyond six (6) continuous months, then that employee shall benefit from all of the provisions of the Collective Agreement.

The probationary hours completed as a casual employee shall be applicable for a permanent position provided it is of the same classification. At any time during the probationary period the Employer may give notice to the employee that he intends to reject the employee at the end of such notice period as may be established by the Employer. Such notice of rejection is not considered to be a matter for grievance.

18.09 Hours of work for a casual employee will be offered by seniority within a given classification except when the Employer has a need to offer the hours of work to a new casual employee for the purpose of training/orientation. The training/orientation period of a new casual employee, if necessary, is not to exceed ten (10) working days.

18.10 Once a work assignment has commenced, a casual employee will not be displaced by another casual employee with greater seniority.

ARTICLE 25 – SENIORITY

- 25.01 Seniority shall commence from the date of hire. Seniority accumulated while in a term position or in a casual position of greater than six (6) months, will be considered as seniority for the purposes of this article, provided the employment was not terminated for disciplinary or performance issues.
- 25.03 A casual employee shall retain his accumulated seniority provided there is not a break in employment in excess of twelve (12) months.
- 25.04 A casual employee shall be terminated and lose his seniority rights if:
- (a) he quits and is absent for more than one complete scheduled work day after taking this action;

 - (c) he has been discharged for just cause and is not reinstated;

Notwithstanding Articles 19, 22.03 and 22.04, the Employer agrees to pay $100.00 to the assigned employee for each instance when he/she is required to conduct a single boiler safety control check on a Saturday, Sunday and $120.00 on a Holiday (as per Article 30.01).

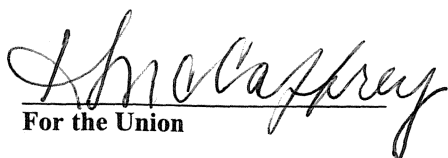

Notwithstanding Articles 19, 22.03 and 22.04, the Employer agrees to pay $120.00 to the assigned employee for each instance when he/she is required to conduct boiler safety control checks on two (2) guarded plants on a Saturday, Sunday and $140.00 on a Holiday (as per Article 30.01).

Notwithstanding Articles 19, 22.03 and 22.04, the Employer agrees to pay $105.00 to the assigned employee for each instance when he/she is required to report to work to start up a boiler and consequently conduct a boiler safety check on a Saturday, Sunday and $140.00 on a Holiday (as per Article 30.01).

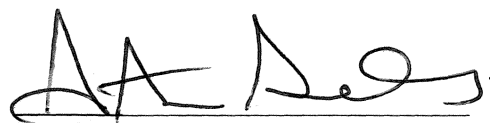

This allowance shall not be considered part of base pay, and is therefore not eligible for, nor shall be included in, calculations for pension, retirement allowance, benefits or any other salary-based supplemental pay or benefit.

At the option of the employee and where operational requirements permit, this allowance may be taken in the form of two and one-half (2 ½) hours of time off. Time off shall be scheduled by the employee's supervisor, consistent with the effective operation of the service, within thirty (30) calendar days of the date the boiler safety control check was carried out, or at a later date mutually agreeable to the employee and the supervisor, otherwise the employee shall be paid the allowance for the day in question.

It is understood that this allowance only covers the boiler safety control check or the start-up of a boiler. If any work other than the boiler safety control check or the start-up of a boiler is needed, employees will be paid in accordance with Article 22.04 of the collective agreement and not as per this LOA.
